

Introduction to ESIRonline:

The ESIRonline database features all presentations for which the presenters gave permission and offers several easy ways to find them.

On the start page you have direct access to topics, conferences, authors and awarded electronic posters.

Subject to the presentation type, the following media formats are available:

- Abstract: view the text online and download the pdf file
- Presentation: view the slides online and download as a pdf file
- Webcast: watch the slides and audio track online and download in mp4 format
- Electronic poster: view the EPOS online and download the poster in pdf format

For a more detailed approach, you can select the following search categories:

Quick search:

Enter a keyword in the search field to get your results displayed in the "Advanced Search" form, where fine tuning of your search is possible.

Advanced search:

Type the search term in the respective field or select categories from the drop down lists. All search fields can be combined in order to help you to narrow your results. Presentations of past meetings will be included if you check the "Include Archive" box.

Packages:

Here you can easily browse through available events, sessions and presentations. Clicking on one of the packages will give you all sessions pertaining to that specific package. To view the individual presentations, please select a session and choose from the listed presentations. The presentation details, including available media and download formats, are displayed on the right side.

Browse:

For quick navigation, use the browse option to access author index, list of topics, best ranked, most viewed, awarded posters, or events.

Bookmarks:

When logged in you can mark your favourite presentations by clicking "bookmark". The button will be highlighted in green and all bookmarked presentations are listed under "My Details".

I like it:

Click the "I like it" button to vote for your favourite presentations. You will find all "liked" presentations under "My Details".

Preview:

If you are not logged in to ESIRonline you will be able to preview the first 10 pages of a slide presentation.
